Dear Sir:

In accordance with your verbal instructions we are now erecting the Shafting required for transmitting power to the Coining Department by means of belting in place of the gearing now in use. In our letter of the 17th inst. to Messrs. Wilson Bros. & Co. (a copy of which we enclose herewith) we quoted a price, as you will observe, for the Shafting, erected in place, and a separate price for the 16" and 18" driving belts, that would be required.

In receiving your instructions for this work there was nothing said about the belts, and as it is important that some arrangement should be made at once for procuring them in time to put in place when our other work is finished, we would be pleased to have you inform us if you desire us to furnish these belts. We would also request that you send us a written order for the Shafting as promised.

U.S. Mint, 2.

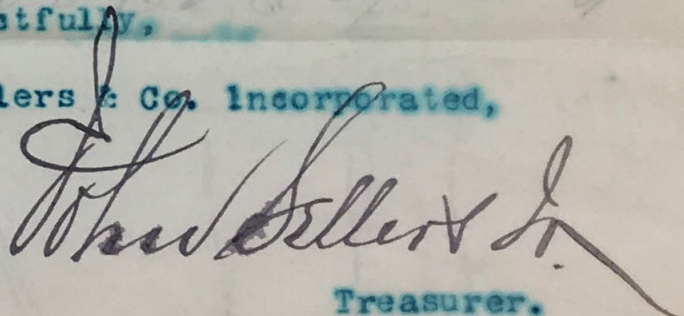

Our understanding of the verbal agreement with you is as follows: All the brick work, cutting of walls, excavations and cutting of deck beam, to be done by your men without expense to us. In consideration of this we make a reduction in the price named of Ninety Five Dollars ($95.) making the net amount for the Shafting erected, exclusive of belts, Six Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($650.) We further agreed, that if this change in plan of driving the Coining Room Shafting does not remove the vibrations that now prevent the use of your Weighing Machinery, we would make no charge for this part of the work.

Hoping to hear from you at your earliest convenience,
we remain

Yours respectfully,
